Eddie is a great digital designer, he has worked with the Soho Agency as part of the core creative team and the wider group for many years delivering exceptional environmental renders for client briefs over the years. Coming from the same schooling as Zaha Hadid his architectural design ability is world class. Eddie is a joy to work with, his enthusiasm, sense of responsibility and speed on the job is in it's own class. I will always recommend him as a professional and a gentleman.

" Jack Morton's London studio is a large and very busy place. We have a great in-house team, but regularly rely on a small team of high quality freelance creatives. I would put Eddie very firmly in the heart of that team. He's very talented, highly skilled and a charming guy to work with. I wish we could have employed him.

We think of Eddie as part of the Live Union team. His fantastic visuals have helped us win pitches and get clients excited about many left-field concepts. Eddie's way of working suits us really well; quick sketches and idea sharing before taking things further. The best thing about working with Eddie is that he really cares about getting it right - and the fact that he's a super nice bloke.

It's really been a pleasure working with Ed, for the last 5 years we've had an amazing working and personal relationship and I couldn't recommend his services enough!

Ed is a great profession, extremely reactive and reassuring. Every agency/company we have worked together with, has spoken so highly of him and his attitude to making the best visuals around!
